

Understanding Energetic Fields and the Power of NES

The NES is a breakthrough biotechnology for analyzing the human body-field.

The Human Body-Field (HBF) surrounds and intertwines the physical body. It is the dynamic master control system for all physiological processes and for emotional well-being. It directs chemical activity through electron and light (photon) exchanges. The Nutri-Energetic System (NES) is able to read the HBF and bring corrections to errors that are revealed. NES integrates Western biochemical principles, quantum biology, and Eastern energetic philosophy.

The Big Fields

We should always pay attention to our Big Fields. These are energetic fields that keep us in alignment with the earth. It is humorously said that if your Big Fields are misaligned you are not on the planet. Most of us feel that way sometimes. To successfully change our health, it is necessary to be harmoniously aligned with the earth's gravitational, polar magnetic and equatorial fields. In the past this was less of an issue. Most people spent their time within a localized region, traveling only slowly and most were in direct contact with the earth and its natural fields. Today's high-speed, high-rise, high-energy society is bathed in incessant artificial sound, light and magnetic influences, coupled with a chemically toxic environment. We travel vast distances at intense speeds, encountering a rapid variation in magnetic and gravitational influences. The body has little time to rest and realign itself, and regain its natural harmony with the earth. The net effect is that our "big fields" are frequently misaligned and their electrostatic polarity is unbalanced. When this happens it becomes extremely difficult for the body to engender positive change. Unless these fields are identified and normalized they will hinder the positive health changes we are attempting to produce.

The power of NES is that it is able to read these "Big Fields" and correct them allowing your body to better use its vital resources.

The Drivers

The HBF is "powered" by energy fields generated by the body's organs and system. NES calls these fields "Drivers." The Drivers provide your body with strength and energy. Without adequate power, healing cannot take place. Drivers provide energy to your physiological systems so they function properly to maintain overall health and well-being. If the Drivers are under-powered, your body may not be able to maintain optimal health. Or, if you are experiencing ill health, you may not have the energy to recover easily and heal well. Damage to the Drivers weakens the HBF, which reduces the effectiveness of the body's mechanisms.

Integrators

DNA also has energetic information fields associated with it. The information field surrounding DNA is structured into 12 distinct groups, or "Integrators." These Integrator fields are interconnected with the HBF. The 12 NES Integrators correspond with the 12 main acupuncture meridians.

The Integrators deal with specific ways your body and body-field send messages back and forth to each other. Each integrator is like a road map for directing the information that your body needs to work properly. The messages travel to DNA, cells, and body systems via electric (electron) and light (photon) exchanges. But if a road is damaged or blocked, messages cannot get through. Damage to the Integrators disrupts internal communication processes.

The Remedies: Infoceuticals

The NES Infoceuticals correct problems and errors at an energetic level. They are imprinted with the quantum-level information necessary to correct the HBF and restore the body to homeostasis and balance. The imprinted magnetic information directs the restructuring of the HBF to optimal configuration.

By using the Infoceuticals:

- Normal physiological processes are restored
- Cellular toxins are more efficiently excreted
- Enzymes & hormones better meet their targets
- Protein information transfer improves

Dr. Lachman to acquire New NES System

Deeper, More Specific Test Results

In an ongoing effort to improve the NES system the Bioenergetic Research Institute (BRI), the creators of the NES System, have developed a major upgrade to the current system. Although the existing NES scan is extremely accurate and detailed, this new system provides a more precise and thorough evaluation of the "Quantum Human Body Field". The current system only reveals four levels of error while the new system will give us five. Also, the new system will allow Dr Lachman to see any two previous scans while the current system allows for only one.

Energetic Stars

The development of Energetic Stars is also a wonderful improvement. Those of you who have had 3 or more scans will really appreciate this new expansion.

As deeper issues come to the surface and are ready to be treated, many times Dr Lachman has had to create a dynamic mini field by mixing several Infoceuticals together. This meant that the patient had to purchase 2 to 5 Infoceuticals and mix them together to achieve a single remedy. Doing this, of course is a hassle and it increases the cost.

The new Energetic Stars are remedies that are already mixed. They are very powerful and effective. They will treat energetic errors associated with such conditions and areas as:

- Immunity
- Memory
- Nerve function
- Circulation/Lipids
- Muscle/Enzymes
- Chill (Makes you feel better)

- Shock
- Audio and Visual Acuity
- Male Energy
- Female Cycle
- Basic Metabolic Rate/ Fat Metabolism
- Cell Metabolism
- Environmental Detox
- Heavy Metals

Also, the new system will identify when an energetic star is needed! In other words, one of the new screens is for energetic stars.

Just this morning, Dr Lachman was talking to one of his patients who has been taking a dynamic mini field for nerves issues. He prescribed the new Energetic Star that replaces the Dynamic Mini Field and the patient felt a stronger result in the first week.

Since BRI has continued to increase its understand by new research in the emerging field of bio-energetics these system improvements will also continue. You can be confident that NES will remain on the cutting edge of bio-energetic technology.

Dr Lachman to Meet Peter Fraser

Peter Fraser, the inventor of the NES system and the first person to map the quantum body field, is teaching in North Carolina this May. Dr Lachman will attend this conference and have the opportunity to meet Peter Fraser. As most of you know, although there are several hundred NES practitioners worldwide, Dr Lachman is the second in the US and sixth in the world to become a Certified NES Practitioner. In closing, we wish each and every one of you an energetic and healthy day.
